The Cathedral High School Panthers want to thank everyone who supported the 2007 Yearbook

To the 2007 graduating class,
I'd like to say goodbye and good luck to you all, most of who were my first ever High School biology class in the US. It was a culture shock for me at first, more than it was for you having an Irish teacher, but I soon got over that and always (or almost always!) thoroughly enjoyed our classes, and, despite the predictions of some, I stuck around after Christmas and now have outlasted you guys. I have enjoyed watching you grow up, some more than others, in your last two years here and hope you keep learning and keep asking questions about the world around you as you go on to further formal education and beyond.
Best wishes,

Dr. O'Brien, aka D.O.B.

Congratulations Class of 2007!

Sasha;

You have soared through your preteen and adolescent years like a lion. The time has come for you to spread your wings and fly. Look back on the years you have conquered, never forgetting where you came from or what you went through to get to where you are today. Remember that where you are today is not the end of your road so reach for the stars. Your dreams are reachable, stay focused and congratulations on completing the first chapter of success.

Shon

Congratulations Stretch! Love Pia

Congratulations Sasha! Love Mitt

Congrats Sasha on your graduation day. We wish you great success in college.
Mucho Amo,
Shawn, Shanyn, Oreo, Randy and Joyce

Sasha;
Continue to follow your dreams and reach for the stars. Don't settle for less. You have a bright future ahead. Continue to trust God. Wishing lots of love and success for you always.
